DON'T PASS UP THOSE GENEALOGICAL SIDE TRIPS.

The day and generation of America's once popular steam excursion is passing from existence and perhaps it is gone forever. The automobile finished it off and the change is accepted in stride. Do you remember, however, - of course you do - the thrills that came with the side-trips of those earlier holiday journeys to points renowned? In retrospect it seems that the happiest experiences occurred whenever one could deviate from the regular features of the trip and discover some unexplored, unpublished haunt and secret of Mother Nature's own devices. Those incidental side-trips on weary foot, far from the main attraction, were the memory fixing events of every trip into excursion land.

Those holiday sojourns, which belonged to our own passing generation, have a parallel in Genealogical Research and the actual thrills of Genealogy are to be found hidden away in many vague and all but obliterated side-trips, yet awaiting leisure time for discovery and reading. They are the simple, honest accounts of family life that have been recorded and then set aside by some chance or another, and the path to their door has grown thick with weeds and underbrush. And like many an old homestead, just a few foundation stones remain to mark the way. These simple family stories are an open sesame if one will but search out their paths with patience. They enrich and clarify family records and vital statistics. Even the oldest burial stone records come to life in a most astounding manner, while the doings of ancient ancestors pass by as having occurred but yesterday.

The foregoing, by way of introduction, may serve to recall many exciting side-trips in as many different reader memories. The particular jaunt to be touched upon now is one which barely consumed a noon hour, but it led far away from the bulk of the day's work problems. So first hear about the incentives that started this singular side-trip on its way.

In the course of searching for vital statistics on grandmother Pritchard's ancestry, there came by chance to hand a copy of "The Richard Webber Family". One reference in particular caught the imagination. It was the paragraph introducing a chapter on the third generation, and read in part as follows:

Joseph (3) Webber, Richard (2), John (1), son of Richard and Sarah (Clark), was born in Rehoboth, Mass., Sept. 17, 1772, married Polly Carpenter April 17, 1796. She was born in Seehonk and Aunt Lucy remembers her and says, "That Polly Carpenter was a woman of rare excellence and purity." They lived the "simple life" in Stafford, Ct. and here their children were born. In 1833 they lived near Palmer, Mass. Their eldest daughter had married a Mormon (before polygamy was practiced) and lived in New York State, so they went to visit her and investigate the Mormons"....Then follows the details of that eleven day trip to Pomfret...."They visited the Mormons in their log houses, attended meetings and heard their peculiar services, also "gift of tongues". They returned home and Joseph decided he "would as lief join a little humble Methodist Society as to join the Mormons and go to Mt. Zion in the West".

Then followed the vital statistics of this generation and, concerning the eldest daughter, Sarah, only this could be recorded: "Sarah b. July 29, 1802, m. George Braffet Oct. 2, 1822, and went to Utah to live when the country was new. All trace of her is lost." This bit of family history reminded the writer that his great-grandfather Newton had migrated to the same community in New York where Mormonism was born, and an inclination came to visit Palmyra, to talk with the Smiths and their neighbors and town folk.

Burton Historical Collection arranged and financed the little trip, and there at the end of the path was Wayne County's History, brim full of the lore of the early nineteenth century. What better fun could be asked, in return for my noon hour, than this little side-trip to the birthplace of Mormonism?

Ceylon Newton Woodruff.

NOTES OF THE SOCIETY

John Baptist Martin, father of Mrs. Walter P. Bruer (Christine Martin) died suddenly on Dec. 2, 1940 at Battle Creek, Michigan, while the community was at work on a testimonial dinner in his honor. Professor Martin was the founder of the Battle Creek Symphony Orchestra and its conductor for 41 consecutive years. He had played with the French Opera Orchestra in New Orleans, headed the orchestral department at Olivet College for 27 years, and directed the same department at Albion College for 15 years. He arranged many compositions, some of which were played by Victor Herbert's Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and others.

Mr. Martin was born June 17, 1866 in Eigeltingen, Baden, Germany, son of Fidel Martin (1820 - 1888) and Rosa Bachler Martin (1824-1913). The family came to Upper Sandusky, Ohio in 1872. He married Nov. 22, 1889, Nellie Hinman Grandin (1868-1928) of Battle Creek, Mich. She was the daughter of Carlton Pomeroy Grandin (1840-1888) and Mary Jane Hinman Grandin (1841-1932). Besides Mrs. Bruer, Mr. Martin left two other daughters and two grand-daughters.

The speaker at the January meeting of the Society was Mr. L. C. Batdorss. He gave a very interesting talk on "Industrial Prosperity in Detroit".

Mrs. H. D. McBride of Spokane, Washington, one of our new members was in Detroit recently, and several of the Society had the pleasure of meeting her. She is interested in helping to form a genealogical society in Spokane. She left a number of Stevens records for our files, for which we extend our thanks.

Dr. Sanford A. Moss of Lynn, Mass. has made some additions, from his own family records, to the "Descendants of Charles Christopher Trowbridge of Detroit" by Beulah Puffer Kresge, which was published in this magazine from October 1938 to June 1939. From the two records Dr. Moss has prepared a pamphlet which is now available to readers in Burton Library. Thank you, Dr. Moss.

Mrs. Dwight T. Randall has resigned as Parliamentarian of the Society as she and Mr. Randall expect to spend several months in California.

We are sorry to be so late in offering congratulations to Mr. Maurice R. Blair of Royal Oak, Michigan who celebrated his 85th birthday December 18, 1940. We wish we had space to print the interesting account of his life which appeared in the "Daily Tribune" of Royal Oak of that date. On his mother's side Mr. Blair is a descendant of John Howland and Elizabeth Tilley of the Mayflower.

On Jan. 14, Mr. Roy E. McFee spoke to the Piety Hill Chapter, D.A.R. of Birmingham, Michigan, carrying again the message of the value of genealogy.

Through an oversight which we regret, we have failed to acknowledge here a very friendly letter from Mr. Glenn Curtis Smith of Charlottesville, Virginia, the Secretary of the recently formed Albemarle County Historical Society. He enclosed Bulletin No. 1, a list of the newspapers published in Albemarle County from 1820 to 1940. The letter, telling about the Society and the Bulletin will be placed on file. Mr. Smith generously offers their assistance to any of us.

NOTICE TO MEMBERS! Mrs. Fred A. Tiedgen, Chairman of the Research Committee, says that either she or Mrs. George W. Corliss, or Mrs. Maude Fuller or Mrs. A. C. Williams, will be at the library every Thursday from 9 A. M. until 3 P. M. They will be glad to help members search for material in our files. The Research Committee is doing much valuable work and welcomes the assistance of any member who has time and interest to give to this work.

July 16, 1824. (Friday) Mr. Louis Lombard, a respectable Dyer of this town, was on Monday last found dead, some distance below, near the woods. On the Saturday previous he had gone out alone on a hunting excursion. Being missed by his friends, a number turned out and ranged the fields and woods, until he was discovered. The verdict of the Jury was, that he came to his death by the discharge of a gun. He was a native of France.

July 23, 1824. (Friday) It is with no ordinary feelings of regret, that we this week announce the sudden death of William Henry Pathuff, Esquire, a most active and useful member of our Legislative Council. On his way to the Council House on Friday morning last, he was attacked with apoplexy in the street - he was taken to his lodgings, and expired on the following morning. Major Pathuff was a native of the state of Virginia and came to this country with the army in 1812. His character among his brother officers stood high for every military and private virtue; and his intelligent, honorable and discreet conduct, in the various civil offices which he has held here, was well appreciated by his fellow-citizens of this territory. We have never known a man who rose more rapidly in the public estimation than Major Pathuff did from the commencement of his labors as a member of the Legislative Council. His age was 43.

His remains were interred on the Sunday following, with the customary ceremonies by his masonic brethren of Zion and Detroit lodges and the members of the Legislative Council as mourners and a large assemblage of citizens and strangers.

Aug. 13, 1824. A letter from Green Bay, dated July 31, states that two soldiers Clark and Wilson, deserters from that post, were pursued and killed by Indians (generally employed to bring back deserters) owing to the resistance of the soldiers. Mr. Judd had for some time been industriously engaged in procuring materials for and compiling a Gazetteer of this Territory, and had the work nearly ready for the press. His death at the present time, is therefore a serious loss to the public and his personal friends will long regret him as a man of scrupulous integrity and public spirit.

THE MATERNAL LINES OF THE LINCOLNS.

Supplementing the "Lincoln Lineage" appearing in this magazine for February, 1940

Contributed by Mrs. Z. R. Peterson.

Through the maternal lines of his Lincoln ancestors, President Abraham Lincoln's direct lines go back to many outstanding Colonial leaders. Like the Lincolns, his Jones and Whitman ancestors came to the Massachusetts Bay Colony during the 1630's. The Salters and Bownes were early settlers of Monmouth Co., New Jersey, and Rev. Obadiah Holmes settled first at Salem, removing later to the Rhode Island Colony. His Flower and Barnard ancestors came to Pennsylvania with William Penn. The Herrings were pioneers of Delaware, later settling in Augusta County, Virginia, and the Hanks family was in Amelia and Bedford Counties, Virginia, before removing to Kentucky, where the President was born.

Mordecai Lincoln, son of Samuel Lincoln, the immigrant ancestor, married 1685
Sarah Jones daughter of Abraham Jones and Sarah Whitman.

JONES

Thomas and Anne Jones arrived in Hingham, Massachusetts in the "Confidence" in 1638, with four small children and two servants. He became a Proprietor in Hingham in 1638, and later in Hull, Mass., where he died in 1680, leaving seven children - Abraham, John, Ephraim, Sarah, Hannah, Thomas and Mary.

Abraham Jones, oldest son of Thomas and Anne, was born in England in 1628 and died at Hull, Mass. in 1717. He was a Proprietor in Hull, and was a Deputy to the General Court of Massachusetts. About 1663 he married Sarah Whitman, daughter of Ensign John Whitman, and had the following children - Thomas, Abraham, Benjamin, John, Sarah who married Mordecai Lincoln, Joseph, Josiah and Ephraim.

WHITMAN

John and Ruth Whitman came to Massachusetts in the "Confidence" in 1637 and settled at Weymouth. He was made a Town Officer in 1643, and was appointed Magistrate to try small cases. He was appointed Ensign in 1645, serving till 1680, and led the Weymouth men in the march against Ninegret in 1654. The Whitman family was noted for the many famous clergymen it produced and for Dr. Marcus Whitman of the Oregon Territory. Ruth Whitman died August 17, 1662, and Ensign John Whitman on November 13, 1692, leaving the following children -

Thomas	m. 11/22/1656 Abigail Byram, dau. of Nicholas & Martha.
Sarah	m. about 1653 Abraham Jones, son of Thomas & Anne.
John	m. 1. 10/19/1662 Ruth Reed, dau. of William & Avis. 2. Abigail Hollis.
Mary	m. 1656 John Pratt.
Elizabeth	m. 1657 Joseph Green.
Hannah	m. 9/9/1660 Stephen French.
Zachariah	m. 10/26/1670 Sarah Alcock, dau. of John.
Abiah	m. Mary Ford, dau. of Andrew.

Mordecai Lincoln, son of Mordecai and Sarah Jones Lincoln, married Hannah Salter, only dau. of Richard Salter and Sarah Bowne (dau. of Major John Bowne and Lydia Holmes.)

SALTER

Richard Salter came from England sometime after 1664 and settled at Freehold, Monmouth Co., New Jersey. The court records refer to him as the King's Attorney as early as 1683. He became Justice and Judge of Monmouth County, being elected to the House of Deputies in 1695. He was a member of the Second Assembly at Freehold in 1704, and a member of the Provincial Assembly nearly a quarter of a century, serving as Chief Justice of the Colony part of this time. He was appointed Captain of the Monmouth Militia in 1704, and was referred to as a "man of marked ability, high social standing, and a leader in the community." His wife was Sarah Bowne, daughter of Major John Bowne and Lydia Holmes. They had the following children -

William James, Deborah Oliver, Thomas whose wife was Rachel, John m. Elizabeth dau. of Elisha & Lucy Stout Lawrence.
 Ebenezer m. Rebecca, dau. of John & Rebecca Throckmorton Stillwell
 Richard m. Hannah, dau. of Elisha & Lucy Stout Lawrence Hannah m. Mordecai, son of Mordecai & Sarah Jones Lincoln.

BOWNE

William and Anne Bowne came to Salem, Mass. in 1631 with their infant son John. They removed to Gravesend, L. I. in 1645, where he was a Proprietor and served as Magistrate several years. Later, he, with his son John and Rev. Obadiah Holmes and others, became a grantee of the noted Monmouth Patent of 1665 and removed there, where he died in 1677, leaving the following children - Andrew, Phillip, Gershom, John who married Lydia Holmes, and James who married Mary Stout, daughter of Richard and Penelope Van Princes Stout.

John Bowne, oldest son of William and Anne, was born in 1630 in England. He was allotted a plantation at Gravesend, L. I. in 1647, and in 1663 removed to Monmouth Co., New Jersey, where he was one of the twelve grantees, and where he died January 3, 1684. He was one of the original settlers of Middletown and a founder of the Baptist Church there. He was a representative to the Hempstead Convention in 1665, and was a Deputy to the New Jersey Assembly for many years, becoming Speaker of the Assembly in 1680, and Chief Justice of the Colony in 1683, in which year he was also appointed Major of the Monmouth Militia. He has been referred to by several authorities as the most prominent man of the Colony. About 1663 he married Lydia Holmes and had the following children -

John m. 1692 Frances Bowman
 Obadiah m. 1. Elizabeth Bowne, dau. Capt. Andrew & Elizabeth
 2. Elizabeth Longfield, dau. of Cornelius
 Deborah the first wife of Richard Stillwell.
 Catherine m. William Hartshorne, son of Richard Sarah m. Richard Salter and became the mother of Hannah Salter, wife of Mordecai Lincoln II.

Obadiah Holmes, with his wife, Katherine Hyde, and their infant son Jonathan, came to Salem, Mass. in 1633. They brought the first pendulum clock to America - one of the first of the kind ever constructed. In 1885 when this fact was reported in the Narragansett Historical Register, the clock was still doing duty in a cabinet of the Long Island Historical Society of Brooklyn. Obadiah Holmes, with Lawrence Southwick and Annanias Conklin, established the first glass works at Salem in 1639, manufacturing window glass. But the intolerance of the Puritan Church in Massachusetts disturbed him, and in 1650 he and others removed to Roger Williams Rhode Island Colony at Newport. In the summer of 1651, he, with Rev. John Clarke and John Crandall, as representatives of the Newport Church, returned to Lynn, Mass. to confer with William Witter, who had been unable to remove to the Rhode Island Colony. As they were holding services in William Witter's home on Sunday they were arrested for preaching "contrary to the established Church of the Massachusetts Bay Colony", and were ordered to either pay a fine or be publicly whipped on Boston Common. Friends offered to pay the fines, but Obadiah Holmes refused to permit this because of the principle involved - his belief in the freedom of conscience in religious matters. He preferred to accept the punishment ordered by Gov. John Endicott, and the story of his martyrdom is told in all histories of the early Baptists. He returned to Rhode Island and in 1652 succeeded the Rev. John Clarke as pastor of the Baptist Church at Newport, serving for more than thirty years, till his death in 1682. He became a very influential man in the Colony, being County Judge several years, a Deputy to the General Court, and a member of the special Governor's Council in 1676.

Obadiah and Katherine Holmes had the following children:

Jonathan	m. 1665 Sarah	daug. of Richard & Joan Fowler Borden
Martha	m.	Odlin
Samuel	m. 1665 Alice	daug. Nicholas & Ann Van Dyke Stillwell

John Lincoln, only son of Mordecai and Hannah Salter Lincoln, married 7/5/1743 Rebecca Flower, wid. of James Morris, and daug. Enoch Flower & Rebecca Barnard.

FLOWER

William Flower came from Brinkworth, England, and settled first in New Jersey; later, about 1692, near Marcus Hook, Chester County (the present Delaware County), Penn. He was a Quaker, and was related to Enoch Flower, the first schoolmaster in Philadelphia. He served as a Jurymen in Chester County in 1693, and as Constable in 1694 and 1695. He married Elizabeth Morris in 1692, and they had -

HERRING

The pioneer Herring ancestor was Alexander Herring, Sen., who lived in Sussex Co., Delaware with his wife Margaret. Their only son, Alexander Herring, Jun., married Abigail Harrison, who was born 1710, the daughter of Isaiah Harrison and Abigail Smith of Delaware. Alexander and Abigail Herring sold their Delaware lands in 1742, and removed to the Linville Creek region of Augusta County, Virginia, where some of the Harrisons had already settled. They had children: Leonard, Alexander, William, Bethuel, Jesse and

Nancy Hanks, who was living with her aunt and uncle, Richard and Lucy Shipley

Berry. They removed from Washington Co., Ky., to Spencer Co., Indiana, where Nancy Hanks Lincoln, mother of President Lincoln, died Oct. 5, 1818.

HANKS

There is not sufficient documentary evidence at the present time to trace accurately the Hanks lineage, as the Court records are incomplete, and the marriage records very fragmentary. However, the Virginia land records show that members of the Hanks family, together with relatives and friends with whom they were associated in Kentucky, were living along the Rappahannock River in the early 1700's, then along the Nottaway River, and later on the Roanoke River, before finally leaving for Kentucky.

Abraham Lincoln, son of Thomas and Nancy Hanks Lincoln, m. November 4, 1842

Mary Todd, dau. of Robert S. Todd and Ann Eliza Parker, at Springfield, Ill.

President of the United States 1861-1865.

WARREN, MICHIGAN CEMETERY RECORDS.

On the 21st day of May, 1938 the Research Committee of the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research copied the inscriptions in this cemetery. During August and September, 1940 Mr. Elijah H. Owen and Mr. Floyd A. Church made a careful recheck. The record which follows is, we believe, correct and complete to September, 1940.

Warren Cemetery is on West Chicago Road about three-fourths of a mile west of the Village of Warren, Warren Township, Macomb County, Michigan. It is reached from Mound Road, east or Ryan Road, west. Stewart's Atlas of Macomb County of 1855 shows a cemetery and a church where the cemetery is today (1940) on the north side of Chicago Road in Section 5, NW 4. The farm of Joseph McGrath seemed to contain the church and cemetery property. This church is said to be the same building that the Methodists use now at its new location at the corner of Church and Wilson Streets (Seventh and Fillmore as renamed 1940) in Warren Village. The same Atlas shows three church buildings along the west side of the main north and south street in the village. It may be in error as to the location since the Lutheran Church is supposed always to have been on the east side of the main street and the old location of the Methodist Church was supposed to have been on the SOUTH side of the Chicago Road, across from the cemetery.

Date of settlement and place of origin of many of the families in the Warren Cemetery may be found in Stewart's Atlas 1855. The Macomb County Atlas of 1895 shows the cemetery in its regular location, but the church has been moved to the village. This Atlas also contains a partial list of the residents of Warren.

Warren Cemetery is divided into two parts, with the "Methodist" on the west side and the "Lutheran" on the east. All inscriptions were copied exactly as they appear on the stones. For brevity no verses are included unless they contain some clue for the genealogist. The same is true of footstones, but the searcher may see the file copy of the DSGR which records every possible bit of data that could be obtained, as location of soldiers' graves, unmarked graves, lodge markers, footstones, sentimental inscriptions, and physical data-trees, fences, gates, etc.

The inscriptions are set down in order of the location of graves in rows of one lot wide, numbered from 1 to 49, starting at the south-west corner of the cemetery and reading from front to back in each row. This was possible because the cemetery is rectangular with the lots in regular rows. All names in a lot marked with a single (*) asterisk were on the same monument or stone.

SAMUEL TOMPKINS AND MARTHA ALPHENA (TODD) SCHUREMAN AND THEIR DESCENDANTS.

By Frances Ida Schureman Judd

"I being wife to Mr. James Sands deceased, and made the sole executrix by my said husband as by will bearing the date June the 18, 1694, may plainly appear. That is to say First and Principally, I commend my soul to Almighty God my Creator, assuredly believing that I shall receive full pardon and free remission of all sins and be saved by the precious death and merit of my blessed Saviour and Redeemer Christ Jesus, and my body to the earth from whence it was first taken, to be buried in such decent and Christian manner as to my executor hereafter named shall be thought most meet and convenient, and as touching such worldly estate as the Lord in mercy hath lent me, my will and meaning in the same shall be implied -" followed Specified articles for each, and an equal division "amongst my five children, viz: John Sands, James Sands, Samuel Sands, Sarah Niles, and Mercy Raymond.
 Samuel Niles and Sarah Sands
 Hannah Rose, Oct. 1703"

Sept. 1704 she gave her negro woman to her grandson the Rev. Samuel Niles who was to keep her for ten years, when she was to be forever free thereafter. By this act Sarah (Walker) Sands became one of the first emancipators in American history.

C22 Sarah (Sands) Walker, b. ca. 1631, who married AZ1 Capt. James Sands of Block Island R. I. before Mar. 18, 1647, was a daughter of CZ1 John and Katherine (Hutchinson) Walker of Portsmouth, R. I.

The name Walker is not uncommon in Scotland and Northern England and is an occupational one. The work of a fuller of cloth consisted in stamping and pressing, and he was called a Tucker or Walker.

John Walker of Yorkshire is found in fourteenth century records. The death of John Walker, archdeacon of East Riding, Yorkshire, occurred in 1475. The Somerset Visitation of 1623 lists John Walker of Stoway, and John Walker carries the name of a Somerset Line. Robert Walker was a beneficiary of a Lincolnshire will of 1591. Among the early New England colonists there were several men named Walker. Both there and in the South many of the name have made important contributions to American life.

Contemporary with CZ1 John Walker was Robert Walker, a linen weaver from Manchester Co. Lincolnshire, who was in Boston in 1634 as was also CZ1 John Walker. In 1699 Robert was seventy-two years old. Perhaps they were related. The writer has not devoted much time to John Walker's background, and, as is usual if a colonist left no sons to carry on his name, and the names of his daughters were changed by marriage such an investigation is quite certain to be difficult.

CZ1 John and D22 Katherine (Hutchinson) Walker were members of the First Congregational Church in Roxbury, now a part of Boston, in 1633, and on May 14, 1634, he was made a freeman of Boston (A member of a city or town, possessing certain privileges). He was of Boston, Mass. in 1637, and as was natural was among the sympathizers of Anne Hutchinson in her unjust trial and banishment from Boston and was one of the seventy-five men ordered to "acknowledge their sin in subscribing the seditious libel" (The notorious petition for clemency) or give up their arms and ammunition before Jan. 30, 1637. These signers were proceeded with "in a church way" by admonition and this failing they were excommunicated. Mrs. Hutchinson's church trial and excommunication on Mar. 15, 1638 were followed by the de-purchase of the Hutchinson family and a number of Anne Hutchinson's friends to make a settlement at Aquedneck (now Rhode Island) where they founded Portsmouth.

D21 John Walker Mar. 7, 1638 in company with eighteen men was one of the first settlers of Rhode Island, and in signing the first political compact made in Rhode Island became one of the earliest subscribers to the covenant of civil government. This compact signed at Portsmouth was as follows. "We whose names are underwritten do here solemnly in the presence of Jehovah incorporate ourselves into a Bodie Politicke, and as he shall help will submit our persons lives and estates unto our Lord Jesus Christ the King of Kings and Lord of Lords and to all those perfect and most absolute laws of his given us in his holy word of truth to be guided and judged thereby." John Walker was present May 13, 1638 at a General meeting held after public notice and five days later he made his will which follows.

"In the name of God Amen I John Walker of Portsmouth on Rhode Island in the province of providence plantacions beinge of whole and perfitt memmory have made this my Last Will and Testament in forme and manner followinge Imprimus I Will and bequeath my Soull into the hands of my most mighty Creator and merciful Redeemer alsoe I will my body to be comly buried in Some Convenient place at the discretion of my Executor. Item I will unto my Daughter Mary Walker, Twenty acres of Land at the upper End of my Lott to be measured from the Comon Downwards. Item I Will that if my Daughter Sands dyes Childless then that this Twenty Acres shall fall unto her Husband James Sands and his heires for ever. The Portsmouth, R. I. records list on page 9 "one hundreth Acres ne" owned by John Walker "four Hundreth" by William Hutchinson "and if there be noe meddowes within ho of Tow Acres he is to have Two Porter's Meddow". For reasons which will be presently understood the listing of this acreage in Portsmouth in no way detracts from the following deductions of the writer. There is apparent unanimity regarding the maiden name of D22 Katherine (Hutchinson) Walker but a wide divergence of opinion concerning her parentage. Some genealogists allege that Katherine was a daughter of Edward and Sarah Hutchinson, but the writer has failed to find a Katherine listed among their children and the birthdate of this Edward makes this unreasonable if not impossible. At 38 he would have been a great grandfather. Others affirm that Katherine was a daughter of Edward 2 (William 1) and Catherine (Hamby) Hutchinson. This is still more unreasonable. Edward would have been a great grandfather at 36. The writer thinks that she was Katherine, the year of whose birth has not been discovered by the writer and the year of whose baptism is never positively stated and that she was the eldest of all the children of William and Anne (Marbury) Hutchinson, that she was born about 1612, presumably a namesake of Anne's sister Katherine (Marbury) Scott, and married to John Walker in England where it is probable that their daughter C22 Sarah (Walker) Sands was born about 1631.

D22 Katherine (Hutchinson) Walker (presumably) was born in England about 1612. Her will recorded at Portsmouth, R. I., Dec. 18, 1671, follows.

"In the name of God Amen I Kathrin Walker of Portsmouth on Rhod Island beinge in health and membry have made this my last Will and Testament in forme and manner followinge first I bequeath my Soule to God and my Body to be buried in some Convenient place at the Discretion of my Executor. I will to my daughter Sarah Sands my fether bed a coverlid and blankitt and a pillow and sheets the warming pan a Brass mortar one Brass tittle Kettle alsoe I will the table to Sarah. Item I give to Sarah the Red Cow and a browne heifer. I give Sarah two Pillowbeares a fine and a Course. Item I will halfe the Corne this yeare growinge to Sarah and the other to my daughter Mary and a load of hay to Sarah. I give to Sarah the half part of the new out house, Mary to give her thirty shills for her part or take so much as she sees good. I give three Wedges to James Sands and a paire of tongues. I give to Mary the rest of the Bedinge and three Sheets, two pillowbeares a fine and a Course one a chest all the pewter in the house that is mine, a great Brass Kettle a Scellitt a Iron Kettle and a Scoomer a chafing dish Tramills a Spade a fryng pann one hogthead one Butter firkin to Mary three milke vessells I give a sow and barrow to Sarah. Richard A. Scofield departed this life Jan. 12th, 1856, aged 21 years, 5 mos., and 4 days.
Nancy P. Smith died Feb. 17, 1877.
George Smith died April 15, 1891.

Notes by H. H. Ellis: Mary L. Smith, 1832-1863, of this record, married Lanham. Her daughter, Effie, 1859-..., married Frank Logan, 1846-....
Their children were Mary, 1881-..., and Olive, 1884-....

Nancy Scofield, widow of Richard Scofield, Sr. and mother of Richard Scofield, Jr. married in 1842, George Smith. Many of the Smith births seem to be the children of George and Hester (Calvin) Smith.

Mrs. Bingham, owner of this Bible, thinks that Nancy P. (Scofield) Smith's maiden name was Parker.

TRACING FRENCH ANCESTRY

From Notes by Bacon Vaughn

Many families in Detroit and other parts of the nation have French ancestry running back to the "Voyageurs" or to settlers of the Province of Quebec.
As a worker with many years of experience in this field, the writer would make a few suggestions about the rather difficult work of tracing that ancestry.

As French is the official language of the Province, a working knowledge of that language is almost indispensable for satisfactory results. The many spellings of the same family name must be mastered. For instance, Regnault, Renault, Renaud and Renos, all pronounced "Ren-o". Then again, the original name has sometimes disappeared in one branch of a family, the "dit" name being substituted. For example, Benoit dit (called) Livernois, to Livernois, Simon dit Leonard, now Leonard.

Some of the earliest settlers of New France were buried by the priests in old forts, now non-existent. Some of these burial records are on deposit in Quebec and elsewhere. Quebec has twenty-four districts, each of which contains many parishes. There is no general depository from which certificates can be obtained, so one must know the parish and consult the records there. Certificates of wills (testaments) are to be obtained through the Protonotaires. Land Records and mortgage transfers come from the Registrateur of the district. One of the best records to be obtained is the Contract of Marriage, which is drawn up by a Notaire in the home of the bride-to-be. It gives the names of both parents of the bride and groom, the relatives and witnesses.

ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS TO GENEALOGICAL WORKS

"HISTORY OF THE LINCOLN FAMILY" by Waldo Lincoln, 1923, p. 103, has listed the children of John and Rebecca Lincoln Rimel, of Greene County, Tennessee, incorrectly. John Rimel m. Rebecca Lincoln April 26, 1786 in Rockingham Co., Virginia, and they soon removed to East Tennessee. Their children were:

Nancy, m. 1/5/1811 Emanuel Good and died before 1840, leaving the following children mentioned in Rebecca Lincoln Rimel's will in Sept. 1840.

John Good, m. 5/2/1833 Elizabeth Humphreys.

Betsy Good, m. 6/1/1831 John Fellers

Delilah Good, m. 2/29/1840 Asa Bayless

Jacob Good, m. 10/21/1835 Jane Hall

Polly, m. 3/3/1807 John Bird, Jun.

Sally, m. 4/30/1816 Jacob Seaton

Isaac, m. 9/9/1819 Kezia Williamson

Jacob, m. 10/17/1823 Christina Willhoite

John, m. 7/27/1825 Sally Williamson

Dorcas m. 7/27/1825 John Williamson

Betsy, m. Jacob Miller who died before 1840.

George, m. (have not located marriage record yet)

This list was taken from the original Wills and Marriage Records of Greene and Washington Counties Tennessee. Waldo Lincoln omits the daughter Nancy Rimel Good, although he mentions her children listed in Rebecca Lincoln Rimel's will. He mistakenly includes Polly Rimel who m. Samuel Swatzell, Abraham Rimel who m. Alpha Fannon, and Elias Rimel who m. Jenny Dunkin. These were children of Jacob Rimel.

689-M-32: LONGEWAY: Fifty years ago my father pointed out to me on the "fifteen-sixteen" road two miles west of Meaford, Ontario, the home of a Louis Longeway. I never knew the spelling of the name, but the pronunciation was as given in the query Lonzshway. My hazy impressions are that he was a bachelor or a widower, a clever woodcarver, possibly a cabinet-maker. He died or moved away shortly afterward. I believe he left no relatives in that community, but the memories of a boy of seven must, of course, be discounted. A query sent to the Meaford Express might elicit the facts from some old-timer. Information, if any is received, will probably come from some member of the Watson, Laycock, Boyes or Cramp families.

691-M-32: ROCHELEAU: Mr. Thos. Rocheleau of Detroit, who is a descendant of the Wm. and Phelia L. Mrs. Elmer Cote of Detroit is also a descendant of the Quebec family and has visited Three Rivers. She can give additional data on the family. Street addresses of Mr. Rocheleau and Mrs. Cote will be furnished to any one interested.

Mrs. Blanche Whiting Doran of California, who has given us so many Bible records through Mrs. McGlynn, is now searching census and other records in Washington. Of interest to Miss Ellis and perhaps others, she reports that there is no 1810 census record for Putnam Co., N. Y. at Washington.
